Letter from the Commissioner

I am happy to present this year's issue of the Internal Revenue Service Data Book, IRS's annual report that details the many ways in which the IRS effectively serves the American public. This issue of the report describes activities conducted by the IRS during Fiscal Year 2010 (October 1, 2009, through September 30, 2010).

During the fiscal year, IRS employees processed 230 million returns, including individual income, corporation income, and employment income tax returns. We provided $467 billion in refunds to these taxpayers and collected $2.3 trillion for the Federal government, provided taxpayer assistance through 305 million visits to IRS.gov, and assisted more than 78 million taxpayers through our telephone helpline or at walk-in sites. Of the 141 million individual income tax returns processed, almost 70 percent were filed electronically.

In 2010, IRS continued to implement the tax portions of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. IRS prepared systems and products in a timely manner, enabling taxpayers to take advantage of the ARRA provisions as soon as possible. Individual taxpayers benefited from the Making Work Pay Tax Credit, the First-Time Homebuyer Credit, and expanded COBRA health care coverage. And, we helped America's businesses, as they benefited from Net Operating Loss Carryback Adjustments that offset taxable income for the preceding 3 to 5 years.

Also in 2010, IRS pursued its international agenda to ensure that taxpayers cannot walk away from their responsibilities by hiding money in offshore accounts. Over the past few years, our voluntary disclosure program and enforcement efforts have brought thousands of taxpayers back into the system, and those numbers are growing.

We also focused on our workforce, making the best use of the talents that lie within our own organization. Our agency showed remarkable improvement in its rankings in the Best Places to Work in the Federal Government survey, getting us closer to my goal of making the IRS the best place to work in government.

IRS has much to be proud of as we look back at Fiscal Year 2010 and our work serving the American public. It is with pride that I give you this year's issue of the IRS Data Book.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue

Returns Filed, Taxes Collected, and Refunds Issued

Tables 1 and 2 provide a broad overview of the main functions performed by the IRS: processing Federal tax returns and collecting revenue. During Fiscal Year (FY) 2010, the IRS processed 230 million Federal tax returns and supplemental documents and collected $2.3 trillion in gross taxes. After accounting for 122.2 million refunds, totaling $467.3 billion, collections (net of refunds) totaled $1.8 trillion.

During FY 2010, there were more than 141.1 million individual income tax returns filed, accounting for 61.3 percent of all returns filed. Individual income tax withheld and tax payments, combined, totaled almost $1.2 trillion before refunds. Individual taxpayers received $358 billion in refunds.

The IRS also processed almost 2.4 million returns and collected almost $278 billion in taxes, before refunds, from corporations in FY 2010. Partnerships and S corporations filed an additional 8 million returns.

Tables 3 through 6 provide additional detail on returns filed, returns filed electronically, and gross collections. More than 116 million returns, including almost 70 percent of individual income tax returns, were filed electronically in FY 2010. More than 64 million returns were submitted to the IRS through paid preparers, while 2.9 million taxpayers whose adjusted gross income was $58,000 or less filed using the IRS Free File program.

Tables 7 and 8 provide information on tax refunds by State and type of tax.

n.a.—Not available.

[1] Excludes adjustments and credits to taxpayer accounts, as well as excise taxes paid to the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[2] Includes overpayment refunds, refunds resulting from examination activity, refundable tax credits, and other refunds required by law. Refundable tax credits include those associated with the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009, such as: Making Work Pay Tax Credit, American Opportunity Tax Credit, and the First-Time Homebuyer Credit. Under the provisions of ARRA, the Earned Income Tax Credit expanded to a total of $54.7 billion and the Child Tax Credit expanded to a total of $22.7 billion. Rebate Recovery Credits associated with the Economic Stimulus Act of 2008 are also included here. Reported amounts include $2.2 billion in interest, of which $1.4 billion was paid to corporations and $0.8 billion was paid to all others (related to individual, employment, estate, gift, and excise tax returns).

[3] Less than 0.05 percent.

[4] Collections include Presidential Election Campaign Fund contributions of $45.2 million in Fiscal Year 2009 and $40.8 million in Fiscal Year 2010.

[5] Collections of withheld individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). The OASDHI tax collections and refunds shown in this table are based on estimates made by the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to the provisions of Section 201(a) of the Social Security Act as amended and include all OASDHI taxes. Amounts shown for individual income tax withheld and individual income tax payments were derived by subtracting the FICA and SECA tax estimates from total individual income tax withheld and individual income tax payments. Refund estimates, and, therefore, net collection estimates, were not made for the components of income and OASDHI taxes.

[6] Includes collections of estimated income tax and payments included with individual income tax return filings.

NOTES:

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

Partnership and S corporation data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns.

[r]—Revised in June 2010. The amount published in the print version of the 2009 Data Book (released in March 2010) was incorrect because of a math error.

[1] Excludes information returns (e.g., Forms 1098, 1099, 5498, W-2, and W-2G, and Schedule K-1); tax-exempt bond returns (Forms 8038, 8038-B, 8038-CP, 8038-G, 8038-GC, 8038-T, 8038-TC, and 8328); and employee benefit plan returns (Forms 5500 and 5500-EZ) processed by the Department of Labor. See Table 14 for the total number of information returns filed.

[2] Includes Form 1066 (real estate mortgage investment conduit income tax return) and the Form 1120 series as follows: 1120 (corporation income tax return); 1120-A (corporation income tax return, short form); 1120-C (cooperative association income tax return); 1120-F (foreign corporation income tax return, except foreign life insurance company, foreign property and casualty insurance company, or foreign sales corporation); 1120-FSC (foreign sales corporation income tax return); 1120-H (homeowner association income tax return); 1120-L (life insurance company income tax return); 1120-ND (income tax return for nuclear decommissioning funds); 1120-PC (property and casualty insurance company income tax return); 1120-POL (income tax return for certain political associations); 1120-REIT (real estate investment trust income tax return); 1120-RIC (regulated investment company income tax return); and 1120-SF (income tax return for settlement funds). Form 1120-X (amended corporation income tax return) is included with Supplemental documents in this table.

Excludes Form 990-T (tax-exempt organization unrelated business income tax return), which is included under Tax-exempt organizations in this table, although the tax reported on these returns is combined with Business income taxes in other tables.

[3] Includes the Form 1040 series as follows: 1040 (individual income tax return); 1040-A (individual income tax return, short form); 1040-C (income tax return for departing aliens); 1040-EZ (individual income tax return for single and joint filers with no dependents); 1040EZ-T (telephone excise tax refund return); 1040-NR and 1040NR-EZ (nonresident alien income tax returns); 1040-PR (self-employment income tax return for Puerto Rico residents); and 1040-SS (self-employment income tax return for U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and Northern Mariana Islands residents). Form 1040-X (amended individual income tax return) is included with Supplemental documents in this table.

The Economic Stimulus Payments associated with the Economic Stimulus Act of 2008 contributed to a temporary increase in the number of individual income tax returns filed in Fiscal Year 2009. Some taxpayers, who did not otherwise have a filing requirement, filed a form from the 1040 series to claim an Economic Stimulus payment. These filers are not expected to become regular filers unless their filing requirements change.

[4] Includes Forms 940 (employer's Federal unemployment tax return); 940-EZ (employer's Federal unemployment tax return, short form); 940-PR (unemployment tax return for Puerto Rico residents); 941 (employer's tax return for income and Social Security taxes withheld for other than household and agricultural employees); 941-PR/SS (employer's tax return for Puerto Rico residents, or for U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and Northern Mariana Islands residents); 943 (employer's tax return for agricultural employees); 943-PR/SS (employer's tax return for agricultural employees for Puerto Rico residents, or for U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and Northern Mariana Islands residents); 944 (employer's tax return); 944-PR/SS (employer's tax return for Puerto Rico residents, or for U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and Northern Mariana Islands residents); and 945 (tax return of withheld income tax from nonpayroll distributions). Also includes Forms 1042 (tax return of withheld income tax on U.S.-source income of foreign persons); and CT-1 (railroad retirement tax return). Forms 941-X (adjusted employer's tax return for income and Social Security taxes withheld for other than household and agricultural employees); 943-X (adjusted employer's tax return for agricultural employees); 944-X (adjusted employer's tax return); 945-X (adjusted tax return of withheld income tax from nonpayroll distributions); and CT-1X (adjusted railroad retirement tax return) are included in Supplemental documents.

[5] Includes the Form 706 series as follows: 706 (estate and generation-skipping transfer tax return); 706-GS(D) (generation-skipping transfer tax return for distributions); 706-GS(T) (generation-skipping transfer tax return for terminations); and 706-NA (estate and generation-skipping transfer tax return for nonresident aliens). An increase in the filing threshold resulted in a decrease in the number of estate tax returns filed. The filing threshold was $2 million for deaths in Calendar Year 2008; it was $3.5 million for deaths in Calendar Year 2009. The estate tax was temporarily repealed for deaths in Calendar Year 2010. However, estate tax returns were filed in Fiscal Year 2010 for decedents who died prior to Calendar Year 2010. Legislation enacted in December 2010 clarified the filing requirements for the estates of 2010 decedents, creating two options that will affect statistics reported for Fiscal Year 2011.

[6] Includes Forms 720 (excise tax return); 730 (tax return for wagering); 2290 (heavy highway vehicle use tax return); 11-C (occupational tax and registration for wagering return); and 5330 (excise taxes related to employee benefit plans return). Excludes excise tax returns filed with the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

Also includes Forms 4720 (excise tax return of charities and other persons); 5227 (split-interest trust information return); and 8872 (political organization report of contributions and expenditures). An increase in the filing threshold resulted in a decrease in the number of estate tax returns filed. The filing threshold was $2 million for deaths in Calendar Year 2008; it was $3.5 million for deaths in Calendar Year 2009; and the estate tax was temporarily repealed for deaths in Calendar Year 2010. However, estate tax returns were filed in Fiscal Year 2010 for decedents who died in prior years. Legislation enacted in December 2010 clarified the filing requirements for the estates of 2010 decedents, creating two options that will affect statistics reported for Fiscal Year 2011.

NOTES:

Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business addresses. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

- [1] Excludes returns that cannot be filed electronically; information returns (e.g., Forms 1098, 1099, 5498, W-2, and W-2G, and Schedule K-1); tax-exempt bond returns (Forms 8038, 8038-B, 8038-CP, 8038-G, 8038-GC, 8038-T, 8038-TC, and 8328); and employee benefit plan returns (Forms 5500 and 5500-EZ) processed by the Department of Labor. Also excludes excise tax returns (Forms 720 and 2290), which together totaled 44,883.
- [2] Includes Forms 1120 (corporation income tax return); 1120-F (foreign corporation income tax return, except foreign life insurance company, foreign property and casualty insurance company, or foreign sales corporation); and 1120-POL (income tax return for certain political associations).

- [4] Online e-filing is an option that allows taxpayers to prepare and file tax returns using a personal computer. Online returns can be filed through one of two processes: users either complete a tax return on a Web site without downloading any software, or users purchase and load software onto their personal computers, prepare their returns, and transmit them to the IRS through an online filing company.
- [5] Free File is a free Federal income tax preparation and electronic filing service for eligible taxpayers developed through a partnership between the IRS and the Free File Alliance LLC, a group of private sector tax software companies. For 2010, taxpayers with an adjusted gross income of $58,000 or less could prepare and file their Federal income taxes using commercial online software provided by the Free File Alliance companies. This software was accessed through IRS.gov.
- [6] Includes cases in which a taxpayer transmits the return via an authorized e-file provider, who, in most cases, is also the preparer of the return.
- [7] Includes the Form 940 series as follows: 940 (employer's Federal unemployment tax return); 941 (employer's tax return for income and Social Security taxes withheld for other than household and agricultural employees); 941-PR/SS (employer's tax return for Puerto Rico residents, or for U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and Northern Mariana Islands residents); and 944 (employer's tax return).
- [8] Includes the Form 990 series as follows: 990 (tax-exempt organization except private foundation return, long form); 990-EZ (tax-exempt organization except private foundation return, short form); 990-N (electronic notice (e-Postcard) for tax-exempt organizations not required to file Forms 990 or 990-EZ); 990-PF (private foundation return); and Form 8872 (political organization report of contributions and expenditures).
- [9] Includes Forms 4868 (automatic filing extension for individuals); 7004 (automatic filing extension for corporations); and 8868 (automatic filing extension for tax-exempt organizations).
- [10] Includes U.S. Territories, U.S. Armed Service members overseas, and international.

NOTE:

Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business addresses. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Table 5. Gross Collections, by Type of Tax and State, Fiscal Year 2010—Continued*Footnotes

- [1] Excludes excise taxes paid to the U.S. Customs Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.
- [2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).
- [3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while aggregate figures that show these amounts separately are presented in Table 1, separate amounts are not available by State.
- [4] The estate tax was temporarily repealed for decedents who died in Calendar Year 2010. However, estate tax returns were filed in Fiscal Year 2010 for decedents who died prior to Calendar Year 2010. Legislation enacted in December 2010 clarified the filing requirements for the estates of 2010 decedents, creating two options that will affect statistics reported for Fiscal Year 2011.
- [5] Excludes adjustments and credits to taxpayer accounts.
- [6] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts.

NOTES:

Partnership and S corporation data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns.

Collection and refund data may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior-year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2010 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. See Table 8 for refund data.

Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business addresses. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

n.a.—Not available.

- [1] Beginning with Fiscal Year 2009, adjustments and credits to taxpayer accounts are excluded.
- [2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990–T).
- [3] Income tax reported for estates and trusts is included in individual income tax in Fiscal Years 1960–2007. Beginning with Fiscal Year 2008, estate and trust income tax is reported separately.
- [4] Includes taxes for Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI); unemployment taxes under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA); and railroad retirement under the Railroad Retirement Tax Act (RRTA).
- [5] Excludes excise taxes collected by the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau. The Internal Revenue Service collected taxes on alcohol and tobacco until Fiscal Year 1988, and taxes on firearms until Fiscal Year 1991.
- [6] Represents fiscal-year transitional period, July 1976 through September 1976, resulting from redefinition of the term “fiscal year.” Fiscal Year 1976 covered July 1975 through June 1976 (earlier years were similarly defined). Fiscal Year 1977 covered October 1976 through September 1977 (subsequent years are similarly defined).

NOTES:

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

All money amounts are in current dollars.

Partnership and S corporation data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns.

Table 7. Number of Refunds Issued, by Type of Refund and State, Fiscal Year 2010—Continued*Footnotes

d—Not shown to avoid disclosure of information. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

N/A—Not applicable.

- [1] Includes overpayment refunds, refunds resulting from examination activity, refundable tax credits, and other refunds required by law. Refundable tax credits include those associated with the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009, such as: Making Work Pay Tax Credit, American Opportunity Tax Credit, First-Time Homebuyer Credit, Earned Income Tax Credit, and the Child Tax Credit. Rebate Recovery Credits associated with the Economic Stimulus Act of 2008 are also included. Excludes adjustments and credits.
- [2] Includes refunds of taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).
- [3] Includes refunds on self-employment income under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act (SECA); railroad retirement taxes under the Railroad Retirement Tax Act (RRTA); unemployment taxes under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA); and Old-Age, Survivors, Disability and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA).
- [4] Includes refunds of tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts.
- [5] Reflects refundable portions of credits only. Shown separately for information purposes. Counts are included in the State figures and U.S. totals.

NOTE:

Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business addresses. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Table 8. Amount of Refunds Issued, Including Interest, by Type of Refund and State, Fiscal Year 2010—Continued*Footnotes

d—Not shown to avoid disclosure of information. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

N/A—Not applicable.

- [1] Includes overpayment refunds, refunds resulting from examination activity, refundable tax credits, and other refunds required by law. Refundable tax credits include those associated with the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009, such as: Making Work Pay Tax Credit, American Opportunity Tax Credit, and the First-Time Homebuyer Credit. Under the provisions of ARRA, the Earned Income Tax Credit expanded to a total of $54.7 billion and the Child Tax Credit expanded to a total of $22.7 billion. Rebate Recovery Credits associated with the Economic Stimulus Act of 2008 are also included. Reported amounts include $2.2 billion in interest, of which $1.4 billion was paid to corporations and $0.8 billion was paid to all others (related to individual, employment, estate, gift and excise tax returns).
- [2] Includes refunds of taxes on corporation income (Form 1120) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).
- [3] The average individual income tax refund (based on Forms 1040, 1040-A and 1040-EZ) was $3,048.
- [4] Includes refunds of self-employment income under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act (SECA); railroad retirement taxes under the Railroad Retirement Tax Act (RRTA); unemployment taxes under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA); and Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA).
- [5] Excludes adjustments and credits.
- [6] Less than $500.
- [7] Includes refunds of tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts.
- [8] Reflects refundable portions of credits only. Shown separately for information purposes. Refund amounts are included in the State figures and U.S. totals.

NOTES:

Collection and refund data may not be comparable for a given fiscal year because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior-year returns made in Fiscal Year 2010 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year refunds. See Table 5 for collections data.

Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business addresses. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

Enforcement: Examinations

Enforcement of the tax laws is an integral component of the IRS's mission. IRS enforcement activities, such as examination and collection, target elements of the tax gap and are a high priority for the IRS.

The IRS accepts most Federal tax returns as filed. However, the IRS examines (or audits) some returns to determine if income, expenses, and credits are being reported accurately. Some examinations are handled entirely by mail, while others are conducted in a taxpayer's home, place of business, an Internal Revenue office, or the office of an attorney, accountant, or enrolled agent. The IRS enforces the tax law in a number of ways. For individual taxpayers, some of the more common methods may include:

- sending a notice to a taxpayer because the IRS has an information return that indicates a taxpayer has income, but has not filed a tax return;
- correcting a mistake made by the taxpayer, using its authority to correct math errors and related problems on a return as filed;
- informing a taxpayer that it has a record of income that does not appear on a tax return;
- conducting an examination by mail (correspondence examination); or
- notifying a taxpayer that he or she is being subjected to a face-to-face audit (field examination).

Tables 9a through 12 provide information about examinations of most types of tax returns. Table 9a provides an overview of all examinations of income tax returns, estate and gift tax returns, employment tax returns, excise tax returns, and certain other business tax returns. During Fiscal Year (FY) 2010, the IRS examined almost 1 percent of all returns filed in Calendar Year (CY) 2009, 1.1 percent of all individual income tax returns filed in CY 2009, and 1.4 percent of corporation income tax returns (excluding S corporation returns). Table 9b shows examinations of individual income tax returns by size of adjusted gross income (AGI). Overall, in FY 2010, individual income tax returns in higher AGI classes were more likely to be examined compared to returns in lower AGI classes.

Table 10 provides additional information about those examinations in which the taxpayer did not agree with the IRS examiner's determination. Table 11 provides information on examinations that prevented the erroneous payment of refunds. Table 12 shows the number of examinations that resulted in additional refunds paid to the taxpayer and the amount of refunds recommended. More than 41,000 examinations of individual income tax returns resulted in additional refunds of almost $810 million.

Table 13 provides information about examinations of tax-exempt organizations, such as charitable organizations and foundations, employee pension plans, Government entities, and tax-exempt bonds. These organizations generally do not owe Federal income tax. However, tax-exempt organizations may owe additional payroll taxes, unrelated business income tax, or excise taxes. In addition, changes to exempt organization returns may lead to adjustments on related taxable returns. Examinations of related returns are also included in Table 13 (and excluded from Tables 9a through 12). The IRS processed 776,300 returns of tax-exempt organizations in CY 2009 and examined 11,449 tax-exempt organization and related returns in FY 2010.

N/A—Not applicable.

- [1] Excludes excise tax returns filed with the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, and returns of tax-exempt organizations, Government entities, and employee plans.
- [2] Calendar Year 2009 data are presented because, in general, examination activity is associated with returns filed in the previous calendar year.
- [3] Field examinations are generally performed by revenue agents, tax compliance officers, tax examiners and revenue officer examiners in person. However, some field examination cases may ultimately be conducted through correspondence in order to better serve the taxpayer.
- [4] Provided by Research, Analysis, and Statistics, Office of Research from Document 6186 (revision October 2010). Some data may differ from those published elsewhere, which were based on an earlier version of Document 6186.
- [5] Not tabulated.
- [6] Includes a total of 473,999 returns with an Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) claim. These returns were selected for examination on the basis of an EITC claim or other selection criteria. Excludes one return associated with the earned income tax credit qualifying child certification test, which is tracked in IRS's examination database.
- [7] Includes a total of $1,972,602 thousand in recommended additional tax (including an Earned Income Tax Credit) on returns selected for examination on the basis of an EITC claim or other selection criteria. Excludes $2 thousand in denied EITC related to the qualifying child certification test. These EITC cases are tracked in IRS's examination database.
- [8] In general, total positive income is the sum of all positive amounts shown for the various sources of income reported on the individual income tax return and, thus, excludes losses. Examinations of individual income tax returns are shown in this table by total positive income of: under $200,000; at least $200,000 and under $1,000,000; and $1,000,000 or more.
- [9] Includes Forms 1040 without a Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship), Schedule E (supplemental income and loss), Schedule F (profit or loss from farming), or Form 2106 (employee business expenses).
- [10] Includes Forms 1040 with a Schedule E (supplemental income and loss) or Form 2106 (employee business expenses), but without a Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship) or Schedule F (profit or loss from farming).
- [11] Total gross receipts is the sum of gross receipts from farm and nonfarm businesses. It is calculated by adding the positive values of gross receipts and other income from Schedule C and gross income (which can be positive or negative) from Schedule F. Schedule C is used to report profit or loss from nonfarm sole proprietorships. Schedule F is used to report profit or loss from farming. If a taxpayer reports both farm and nonfarm income, the return is classified by the larger source of income.
- [12] Includes all Forms 1040, those with and without business income, reporting an Earned Income Tax Credit claim. These returns are classified by size of total gross receipts. Business returns have total gross receipts reported on Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship) or Schedule F (profit or loss from farming). Nonbusiness returns, those with no Schedules C or F, are reported in the "Under $25,000" classification.
- [13] Includes returns selected for examination on the basis of an Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) claim.
- [14] Includes Forms 1040-PR (self-employment income tax return for Puerto Rico residents) and 1040-SS (self-employment income tax return for U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Northern Mariana Islands residents).
- [15] Includes the Form 1120 series as follows: 1120 (corporation income tax return); 1120-A (corporation income tax return, short form); 1120-F (foreign corporation income tax return, except foreign life insurance company, foreign property and casualty insurance company, or foreign sales corporation); 1120-H (homeowner association income tax return); 1120-L (life insurance company income tax return); 1120-M (mutual income company income tax return); 1120-ND (return for nuclear decommissioning funds); 1120-PC (property and casualty insurance company income tax return); 1120-POL (income tax return for certain political associations); 1120-REIT (real estate investment trust income tax return); 1120-RIC (regulated investment company income tax return); and 1120-SF (income tax return for settlement funds). Excludes certain other types of corporation returns, which are included in "other taxable returns" described in footnote 21.
- [16] Forms 1120-F are filed by foreign corporations with U.S. income, other than foreign life insurance companies (Form 1120-L); foreign property and casualty insurance companies (Form 1120-PC); or foreign sales corporations (Form 1120-FSC). Forms 1120-C are filed by cooperative associations.
- [17] Includes returns with assets of less than $10 million examined by either the Small Business/Self-Employed Operating Division or the Large and Mid-Size Business Operating Division.
- [18] Includes returns with assets of $10 million or more examined by either the Small Business/Self-Employed Operating Division or the Large and Mid-Size Business Operating Division.
- [19] Less than $500.
- [20] Less than $0.50.
- [21] Includes 1120-FSC (foreign sales corporation income tax return); 1120-S for S corporations reporting a tax (see footnote 23); 8288 (withholding tax return for disposition by foreign persons of U.S. property interests); and 8804 (partnership withholding tax return).
- [22] Nontaxable returns are filed for entities that generally do not have a tax liability, but pass through any profits and losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns. The examination of partnership, S corporation, and estate and trust returns affects the amount of recommended additional tax for these associated income tax returns.
- [23] Includes most Forms 1120-S, which are filed by qualifying S corporations electing to be taxed through shareholders. Under certain conditions, S corporations are subject to tax and are included in "other taxable returns" in this table. See footnote 21.

NOTES:

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

In the 2009 Data Book, both "All returns" and "All returns with a filing requirement" were reported in Table 9a. "All returns" included both returns filed by individuals with no reason to file other than to claim an Economic Stimulus Payment, as well as returns filed by individuals with income at or above the filing threshold. The column in the 2009 publication labeled "All returns with a filing requirement" excluded the stimulus-only returns. Economic Stimulus Payments, were special payments to taxpayers associated with the Economic Stimulus Act of 2008 and were claimed primarily in 2008 and 2009. In this 2010 table, "All returns" represents primarily those returns filed because their income is subject to a filing requirement as most taxpayers were not eligible to claim an Economic Stimulus Payment on returns processed during Fiscal Year 2010.

This table includes information on examinations of all individual income tax, corporation income tax, estate and trust income tax, estate tax, gift tax, employment tax, excise tax, partnership, S corporation other taxable returns.

[1] Adjusted gross income is total income, as defined by the Tax Code, less statutory adjustments—primarily business, investment, and certain other deductions.

[2] Calendar Year 2009 data are presented because, in general, examination activity is associated with returns filed in the previous calendar year.

[3] Represents the number of returns examined in Fiscal Year 2010 for each adjusted gross income (AGI) class, as a percentage of the total number of returns filed in Calendar Year 2009 for that AGI class.

[4] In addition to examinations of returns filed, the IRS examined more than 134,000 cases in which no return was filed. These nonfiler cases were referred for examination by the Collections Program and the Automated Substitute for Return Program (ASFR). In the ASFR Program, the IRS uses information returns (such as Forms W-2 and 1099) to identify persons who failed to file a return and constructs tax returns for certain nonfilers based on that third-party information. These nonfiler cases are excluded from the examination data in this table.

[5] Includes returns with adjusted gross income (AGI) of less than zero. AGI may be less than zero when a taxpayer reports losses or statutory adjustments that exceed total income.

- d—Not shown to avoid disclosure of information about specific taxpayers. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.
- [1] Excludes excise tax returns filed with the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, and returns of tax-exempt organizations, Government entities, and employee plans.
- [2] Field examinations are generally performed by revenue agents, tax compliance officers, tax examiners and revenue officer examiners in person. However, some field examination cases may ultimately be conducted through correspondence in order to better serve the taxpayer.
- [3] In general, total positive income is the sum of all positive amounts shown for the various sources of income reported on the individual income tax return and, thus, excludes losses. Examinations of individual income tax returns are shown in this table by total positive income of: under $200,000; at least $200,000 and under $1,000,000; and $1,000,000 or more.
- [4] Includes Forms 1040 without a Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship), Schedule E (supplemental income and loss), Schedule F (profit or loss from farming), or Form 2106 (employee business expenses).
- [5] Includes Forms 1040 with a Schedule E (supplemental income and loss) or Form 2106 (employee business expenses), but without a Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship) or Schedule F (profit or loss from farming).
- [6] Total gross receipts is the sum of gross receipts from farm and nonfarm businesses. It is calculated by adding the positive values of gross receipts and other income from Schedule C and gross income (which can be positive or negative) from Schedule F. Schedule C is used to report profit or loss from nonfarm sole proprietorships. Schedule F is used to report profit or loss from farming. If a taxpayer reports both farm and nonfarm income, the return is classified by the larger source of income.
- [7] Includes all Forms 1040, those with and without business income, reporting an Earned Income Tax Credit claim. These returns are classified by size of total gross receipts. Business returns have total gross receipts reported on Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship) or Schedule F (profit or loss from farming). Nonbusiness returns, those with no Schedules C or F, are reported in the "Under $25,000" classification.

- d—Not shown to avoid disclosure of information about specific taxpayers. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals, when possible.
- [1] Protection of the revenue base comprises any action taken by the IRS to prevent the release of funds from the U.S. Treasury in response to taxpayer efforts to recoup all, or part, of previously assessed and paid tax.
- [2] Excludes excise tax returns filed with the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, and returns of tax-exempt organizations, Government entities, and employee plans.
- [3] The number of taxable returns examined involving protection of the revenue base increased significantly from Fiscal Year 2009. Of the 220,084 returns examined involving protection of the revenue base, 179,058 were examinations related to the First-Time Homebuyer Credit.
- [4] Field examinations are generally performed by revenue agents, tax compliance officers, tax examiners and revenue officer examiners in person. However, some field examination cases may ultimately be conducted through correspondence in order to better serve the taxpayer.
- [5] Of the $4,101,351 thousand protected, $655,298 thousand was related to the First-Time Homebuyer Credit.
- [6] In general, total positive income is the sum of all positive amounts shown for the various sources of income reported on the individual income tax return and, thus, excludes losses. Examinations of individual income tax returns are shown in this table by total positive income of: under $200,000; at least $200,000 and under $1,000,000; and $1,000,000 or more.
- [7] Includes Forms 1040 without a Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship), Schedule E (supplemental income and loss), Schedule F (profit or loss from farming), or Form 2106 (employee business expenses).
- [8] Includes Forms 1040 with a Schedule E (supplemental income and loss) or Form 2106 (employee business expenses), but without a Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship) or Schedule F (profit or loss from farming).
- [9] Total gross receipts is the sum of gross receipts from farm and nonfarm businesses. It is calculated by adding the positive values of gross receipts and other income from Schedule C and gross income (which can be positive or negative) from Schedule F. Schedule C is used to report profit or loss from nonfarm sole proprietorships. Schedule F is used to report profit or loss from farming. If a taxpayer reports both farm and nonfarm income, the return is classified by the larger source of income.
- [10] Includes all Forms 1040, those with and without business income, reporting an Earned Income Tax Credit claim. These returns are classified by size of total gross receipts. Business returns have total gross receipts reported on Schedule C (nonfarm sole proprietorship) or Schedule F (profit or loss from farming). Nonbusiness returns, those with no Schedules C or F, are reported in the "Under $25,000" classification.
- [11] Includes Forms 1040-PR (self-employment income tax return for Puerto Rico residents) and 1040-SS (self-employment income tax return for U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Northern Mariana Islands residents). Forms 1120-C are filed by cooperative associations.
- [12] Includes the Form 1120 series as follows: 1120 (corporation income tax return); 1120-A (corporation income tax return, short form); 1120-F (foreign corporation income tax return, except foreign life insurance company, foreign property and casualty insurance company, or foreign sales corporation); 1120-H (homeowner association income tax return); 1120-L (life insurance company income tax return); 1120-M (mutual income company income tax return); 1120-ND (return for nuclear decommissioning funds); 1120-PC (property and casualty insurance company income tax return); 1120-POL (income tax return for certain political associations); 1120-REIT (real estate investment trust income tax return); 1120-RIC (regulated investment company income tax return); and 1120-SF (income tax return for settlement funds). Excludes certain other types of corporation returns, which are included in "other taxable returns" described in footnote 16.
- [13] Forms 1120-F are filed by foreign corporations with U.S. income, other than foreign life insurance companies (Form 1120-L); foreign property and casualty insurance companies (Form 1120-PC); or foreign sales corporations (Form 1120-FSC). Forms 1120-C are filed by cooperative associations.
- [14] Includes returns with assets of less than $10 million examined by either the Small Business/Self-Employed Operating Division or the Large and Mid-Size Business Operating Division.
- [15] Includes returns with assets of $10 million or more examined by either the Small Business/Self-Employed Operating Division or the Large and Mid-Size Business Operating Division.
- [16] Includes Forms 1120-FSC (foreign sales corporation income tax return); 1120-S for S corporations reporting a tax; 8288 (withholding tax return for disposition by foreign persons of U.S. property interests); and 8804 (partnership withholding tax return).

Examinations of individual income tax returns are shown in this table by total positive income of: under $200,000; at least $200,000 and under $1,000,000; and $1,000,000 or more.

Information Reporting and Verification

The IRS uses tools other than examinations to identify and resolve taxpayer errors. In addition to receiving information about taxpayers' self-reported income and tax on returns filed by taxpayers, the IRS gathers independent information about income received and taxes withheld from third-party information returns, such as Forms W-2 and 1099 from employers and other third parties. With its Automated Underreporter Program, the IRS matches these information returns to tax returns and contacts taxpayers to resolve discrepancies. In the Automated Substitute for Return Program, the IRS uses information returns from third parties to identify tax return delinquencies (nonfilers); constructs tax returns for certain nonfilers based on that third-party information; and assesses tax, interest, and penalties based on the substitute returns.

Table 14 provides information about both the Automated Underreporter Program and the Automated Substitute for Return Program. During Fiscal Year (FY) 2010, the IRS received more than 2.6 billion third-party information returns, almost 88 percent of which were filed electronically. Under its Automated Underreporter Program, the IRS closed 4.3 million cases in which a discrepancy was identified between the taxpayer return and third-party information, resulting in more than $7.2 billion in additional assessments. In FY 2010, under its Automated Substitute for Return Program, the IRS closed almost 1.2 million cases in which a tax return delinquency was identified for nonfilers, resulting in $13.4 billion in additional assessments.

During the routine processing of tax returns, the IRS also checks for mathematical and clerical errors before refunds are paid. Table 15 shows the types of errors made on returns processed. For Tax Year (TY) 2009 individual income tax returns processed during Calendar Year 2010, IRS sent 8.4 million notices to taxpayers for almost 10.6 million math errors identified on their returns. Errors related to reporting the Making Work Pay Credit (MWPC) made up the largest portion of total errors for TY 2009 returns. For nearly 4.8 million MWPC cases, the IRS computed the credit for eligible taxpayers who failed to claim it.

- [1] A math error notice to the taxpayer may address more than one type of math error. Therefore, the total number of errors exceeds the total number of notices.
- [2] The Making Work Pay Tax Credit (MWPC) was a refundable tax credit based on earned income and was available to taxpayers in 2009 and 2010. Includes cases for which MWPC was not initially claimed on tax returns, but the IRS subsequently computed the credit for eligible taxpayers. There were 4,778,835 of these cases for Tax Year 2009 returns and 82 for Tax Year 2008 returns.

- [6] Eligible taxpayers whose circumstances changed may have claimed a Rebate Recovery Credit (RRC) to receive some or all of the unpaid portion of an economic stimulus payment. Economic stimulus payments were special payments to taxpayers associated with the Economic Stimulus Act of 2008. Includes cases where RRC was not claimed on tax returns, but the IRS computed the credit for eligible taxpayers. There were 461 of these cases for Tax Year 2009 returns and 372,943 for Tax Year 2008 returns.
- [7] Includes miscellaneous errors and unique error types not included in any other math error definitions.

NOTES:

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

Math errors include a variety of conditions such as computational errors, incorrectly transcribed values, and omitted entries identified during the processing of tax returns.

Collections, Penalties, and Criminal Investigation

The mission of the IRS's Collection function is to collect Federal taxes that are reported or assessed but not paid, and to secure tax returns that have not been filed. Table 16 provides information on these activities. During Fiscal Year (FY) 2010, the IRS collected, net of credit transfers, $29.8 billion in unpaid assessments on returns filed with additional tax due.

The failure to comply with Federal tax laws may result in civil penalties. Table 17 provides information on penalties assessed and abated during FY 2010, by type of tax and type of penalty. Individuals who deliberately fail to comply with Federal tax laws may also be subject to a criminal investigation, which could result in prosecution, fines, and imprisonment. During FY 2010, the IRS assessed $28 billion in civil penalties. More than half of that amount, $14.5 billion, was assessed in civil penalties on individual and estate and trust income tax returns. IRS also abated $10 billion in civil penalties during the year, including $4.1 billion in abatements for individual and estate and trust income tax returns.

Table 18 summarizes criminal investigation activity related to legal source tax crimes, illegal source financial crimes, and narcotics-related financial crimes. In FY 2010, IRS initiated 4,706 criminal investigations in these three areas.

Legal source tax investigations involve activities, industries, and occupations that generate legitimate income. The Legal Source Tax Crimes Program also includes cases that may threaten the tax system, such as frivolous challenges to the legitimacy of the tax laws; unscrupulous tax return preparers; and fraudulent refund schemes. During FY 2010, the IRS referred more than 1,000 legal source tax crimes cases for prosecution.

Illegal source financial crimes relate to proceeds derived from illegal sources, other than narcotics, and involve tax and tax-related violations, as well as money laundering. During FY 2010, the IRS referred more than 1,300 illegal source financial crimes cases for prosecution.

The Narcotics Program investigates narcotics-related tax and money-laundering crimes. The IRS often cooperates with the Justice Department and other law enforcement agencies to accomplish its mission. During FY 2010, the IRS referred more than 600 narcotics-related financial crimes cases for prosecution.

[1] Includes amounts collected through collection activity on previously unpaid assessed taxes plus assessed and accrued penalties and interest. "Total yield from unpaid assessments" was reported as "Total yield from taxpayer delinquent accounts" in prior years' Data Books. The terminology has been revised for clarification, but the data definition has not changed.

[2] Includes assessed penalties and interest but excludes any accrued penalties and interest. Assessed penalties and interest—usually determined simultaneously with the unpaid balance of tax—are computed on the unpaid balance of tax from the due date of the return to the date of assessment. Penalties and interest continue to accrue after the date of assessment until the taxpayer's balance is paid in full.

[3] Includes net assessment of tax, penalty, and interest amounts (less prepaid credits, withholding, and estimated tax payments) on delinquent tax returns secured by Collection activity.

[4] A delinquency investigation is opened when a taxpayer does not respond to an IRS notice of a delinquent return.

[5] An offer in compromise (OIC) is an agreement between a taxpayer and the Federal government that settles a tax liability for payment of less than the full amount owed. Absent special circumstances, an offer will not be accepted if the IRS believes the liability can be paid in full as a lump sum or through a payment agreement.

NOTES: Amounts include delinquent collections activities for the entire IRS. Detail may not add to totals because of rounding. All amounts are in current dollars.

[1] Assessments and abatements of penalties included here were recorded in Fiscal Year 2010 regardless of the tax year to which the penalty may apply.

[2] An abatement is a reduction of assessed penalties. The IRS may approve an abatement of a penalty for: IRS error; reasonable cause; administrative and collection costs not warranting collection of penalty; discharge of penalty in bankruptcy; and the IRS's acceptance of partial payment of assessed penalty.

[3] Represents penalties associated with the Form 1040 series (individual income tax series) and Form 1041 (estate and trust income tax return).

[4] Represents penalties for negligence; substantial understatement of income tax; substantial valuation misstatement; substantial overstatement of pension liabilities; substantial estate or gift tax valuation understatement (under Internal Revenue Code section 6662); understatement of reportable transactions (under Internal Revenue Code section 6662A); and underpayment of stamp tax (under Internal Revenue Code section 6653).

[5] Represents penalties related to failure to supply taxpayer identification number and failure to report tip income.

[6] Represents penalties associated with the Form 1120 series (corporation income tax return series) and Form 990-T (tax-exempt organization unrelated business income tax return).

- [7] Represents penalties associated with failure to provide information on Forms 1065 (partnership return) or 8752 (required payment or refund for an S corporation or partnership under Internal Revenue Code section 7519), or failure to file electronically Form 1065-B (large partnership return).
- [8] Represents penalties associated with Forms 940 (employer's Federal unemployment tax return); 941 (employer's quarterly tax return for income and Social Security taxes withheld); 942 (employer's tax return for household employees); 943 (employer's tax return for agricultural employees); 944 (employer's annual tax return); 945 (tax return for withheld income tax from nonpayroll distributions); 1042 (tax return of withheld income tax on U.S.-source income of foreign persons); and CT-1 (railroad retirement tax return).
- [9] Represents penalties associated with Forms 11-C (occupational tax and registration for wagering return); 720 (excise tax return); 730 (tax return for wagering); 990 (tax-exempt organization information return); 990-PF (private foundation return); 1041-A (trust accumulation of charitable amounts information return); 2290 (heavy highway vehicle use tax return); 4720 (excise tax return of charities and other persons); and 5227 (split-interest trust information return).
- [10] Represents penalties associated with Forms 706 (estate tax return) and 709 (gift tax return).
- [11] Represents various penalties assessed and abated for a wide range of noncompliant behaviors, such as noncompliance related to tax return preparers and to information returns (e.g., Forms 1099, W-2, 3520A, 8027, 8300), as well as aiding and abetting; frivolous return filings; and misuse of dyed fuel. Also includes trust fund recovery penalties. Withheld income and employment taxes, including Social Security taxes, railroad retirement taxes, or collected excise taxes, are collectively called trust fund taxes because employers actually hold the employee's money in trust until they make a Federal tax deposit in that amount. Trust fund recovery penalties are assessed when these employment taxes are not collected, accounted for, and paid timely. The amount of trust fund recovery penalties credited in Fiscal Year 2010 was $630,573 thousand and is included in the amount abated.

[1] Under the Legal Source Tax Crimes Program, IRS Criminal Investigation identifies, investigates, and assists in the prosecution of crimes involving legal industries, legal occupations, and, more specifically, legally earned income associated with the violation of Title 26 (tax violations) and Title 18 (tax-related violations) of the U.S. Code. The Legal Source Tax Crimes Program also includes those cases that threaten the tax system, such as Questionable Refund Program (QRP) cases, unscrupulous return preparers, and frivolous filers/nonfilers who challenge the legality of the filing requirements. Excise tax and employment tax cases are also important elements of the Legal Source Tax Crimes Program.

[2] Under the Illegal Source Financial Crimes Program, IRS Criminal Investigation identifies, investigates, and assists in the prosecution of crimes involving proceeds derived from illegal sources other than narcotics. These encompass all tax and tax-related violations, as well as money-laundering and currency violations under the following statutes: Title 26 (tax violations); Title 18 (tax-related and money-laundering violations); and Title 31 (currency violations) of the U.S. Code. The utilization of forfeiture statutes to deprive individuals and organizations of illegally obtained assets is also linked to the investigation of criminal charges within this program.

[3] Under the Narcotics-Related Financial Crimes Program, IRS Criminal Investigation seeks to identify, investigate, and assist in the prosecution of the most significant narcotics-related tax and money-laundering offenders. The IRS derives authority for this program from the statutes for which it has jurisdiction: Title 26 (tax violations); Title 18 (tax-related and money-laundering violations); and Title 31 (currency violations) of the U.S. Code. IRS Criminal Investigation also devotes resources to high-level multiagency narcotics investigations warranting Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) designation in accordance with OCDETF Program reimbursable funding.

[4] Both "indictments" and "informations" are accusations of criminal charges. An "indictment" is an accusation made by a Federal prosecutor and issued by a Federal grand jury. An "information" is an accusation brought by a Federal prosecutor without the requirement of a grand jury.

[5] The term "incarcerated" may include prison time, home confinement, electronic monitoring, or a combination thereof.

NOTE: Investigations may cross fiscal years. Therefore, the disposition of investigations shown in this table may be related to investigations initiated in prior years.

Taxpayer Assistance

The IRS assists taxpayers in meeting their Federal tax return filing and payment obligations in a variety of ways, such as through its telephone helpline, via the Internet, at IRS walk-in sites, and through volunteer income tax return preparers. Table 19 provides information about some of the programs and services designed to help individual income tax return filers. In Fiscal Year (FY) 2010, the IRS provided taxpayer assistance through 305 million visits to IRS.gov and assisted more than 78 million taxpayers through its telephone helpline or at walk-in sites.

Table 20 provides information about the Taxpayer Advocate Service (TAS). TAS is an independent organization within the IRS that helps taxpayers resolve problems with the IRS and recommends changes that will prevent those problems in the future. Taxpayers may submit an application for assistance to TAS. In FY 2010, TAS received 298,933 applications for assistance and closed 286,298 applications.

Table 21 provides information on the workload of IRS's Appeals Office. The Appeals mission is to resolve tax controversies, without litigation, on a basis that is fair and impartial to both the taxpayer and the Federal government. The Appeals Office considers cases that involve examination, collection, and penalty issues. Taxpayers who disagree with the IRS findings in their cases may request an Appeals hearing. The local Appeals Office is separate and independent of the IRS office that proposed the tax adjustment, collection action, or penalty. During FY 2010, the IRS received 135,755 taxpayer cases and closed 133,090 cases. The majority of cases received were taxpayer requests for hearings in response to notices of intent to levy or notices of Federal tax liens.

[3] Represents the number of organizations distributing forms and publications. Each organization may have multiple branches.

[4] An increasing number of taxpayers receive assistance via www.IRS.gov. This online assistance is reported as visits, page views, and downloads. A Web site visit is a session that begins when a user views his or her first Web page and ends when the user leaves the IRS.gov Web site. Users may access multiple Web pages during a single visit to the IRS Web site, these are counted as page views. A download is the process of copying a file, such as Form 1040, from the IRS.gov Web site to the user's personal computer.

[5] The number of downloads was incorrectly reported as 213.3 million in "Internal Revenue Service FY 2010 Management Discussion and Analysis At a Glance" and has been revised to 220.3 million as of January 2011.

[6] The number of Individual Electronic Transactions decreased for Fiscal Year 2010 since the number of "Where's My Economic Stimulus Payment" electronic transactions decreased significantly. These Economic Stimulus Payments were special payments associated with the Economic Stimulus Act of 2008 and were generally provided to taxpayers in 2008 and 2009. Eligible taxpayers whose circumstances changed may have claimed a Rebate Recovery Credit to receive some or all of the unpaid portion of an Economic Stimulus Payment.

[7] The Transcript Delivery System enables authorized tax practitioners to order tax account, tax return transcript, and other tax information for their business and individual clients. These documents are returned to the practitioner's computer through a secure online connection within minutes of the request.

[8] Eligible tax practitioners may electronically request authorization to receive a client's tax account information or to represent the client before the IRS. This e-service expedites processing and issues a real-time acknowledgment of accepted submissions.

[9] Reflects events declared by the Federal Emergency Management Agency as major disaster areas for which the IRS granted administrative tax relief. Some States and counties/cities were affected more than once.

[10] In Fiscal Year 2010, the number of toll-free disaster hotline calls was lower than in 2009 because there were fewer State and county disaster incidents.

- [1] Taxpayers may submit an application for assistance to the Taxpayer Advocate Service (TAS). These applications for taxpayer assistance may be received in one fiscal year and closed in another. In Fiscal Year 2010, 298,933 applications for assistance were received, and 286,298 were closed. Of the applications for taxpayer assistance received in Fiscal Year 2010, 43,450 (14.5 percent) were related to the First-Time Homebuyer Credit. These applications are included in the issues presented below.
- [2] Under the Automated Underreporter Program, the IRS uses information returns from third parties to identify unreported income.
- [3] The Taxpayer Advocate Service issues Taxpayer Assistance Orders (TAOs) on behalf of taxpayers. A TAO directs an IRS organizational unit to take a specific action or to review, expedite consideration of, or reconsider a taxpayer's case. However, in the majority of cases, the Taxpayer Advocate Service can resolve taxpayers' issues without issuing TAOs.
- [4] Taxpayer Assistance Orders (TAOs) may be issued in one fiscal year and closed in another. In Fiscal Year 2010, 95 TAOs were issued, and 56 TAOs were closed (48 were closed with relief provided to the taxpayer, and 8 were rescinded).

- [6] A single issue (applicable to an individual, corporation, or other entity) that requires a change or modification to an account.
- [7] Requires a change or modification to an established procedure, process, or operation (e.g., computer program) that potentially impacts more than one taxpayer.
- [8] In this table, "Congressional inquiries" (related to constituents tax accounts) refers to those applications for taxpayer assistance received from Congressional offices during the fiscal year. This item is shown separately for information purposes, but counts are included in the data above.

NOTES:

The Taxpayer Advocate Service is an independent organization within the IRS that helps taxpayers resolve problems with the IRS and recommends changes that will prevent these problems.

[1] A case represents a taxpayer with one type of tax and one or more tax periods under consideration in Appeals.

[2] A taxpayer may request a Collection Due Process (CDP) hearing in Appeals in response to a Notice of Intent to File Levy or Notice of Federal Tax Lien Filing. The CDP hearing provides the taxpayer an opportunity, early in the collection process, to work with an independent hearing officer to resolve the collection of the taxpayer's liability.

[3] An Examination case in Appeals may originate from the IRS Wage and Investment Division, Small Business/Self-Employed Division, or the Tax Exempt and Government Entities Division. Examination cases involve issues in dispute by the taxpayer relating to income tax, employment tax, excise tax, estate tax, gift tax, or tax exempt status.

[4] A Penalty Appeals case is one in which the taxpayer requests abatement of a civil penalty that was assessed before the taxpayer was given an opportunity to dispute the penalty. The taxpayer may submit a written request for abatement of the penalty to IRS Compliance Operations, and if the request is denied, the taxpayer may appeal.

[5] An Offer in Compromise is an agreement between a taxpayer and the Government that settles a tax liability in exchange for payment of less than the full amount owed. A taxpayer's offer may be rejected by the IRS Small Business/Self-Employed Division, and the taxpayer may request that Appeals review and decide whether the offer is acceptable.

[6] A taxpayer who files a joint income tax return may be entitled to innocent spouse relief from additional tax due if the tax was incurred because a spouse or former spouse failed to report income, reported income improperly, or claimed improper deductions or credits. An Innocent Spouse case in Appeals is one in which the taxpayer requested and was denied innocent spouse relief by the IRS Wage and Investment Division or Small Business/Self-Employed Division.

[7] An Industry Case in Appeals will originate from the IRS Large and Mid-Sized Business Division (LMSB) and is any type of case from LMSB that is not designated as a Coordinated Industry Case (CIC). See footnote 8.

[8] A CIC designation may be assigned to a large corporate taxpayer by the IRS Large and Mid-Sized Business (LMSB) Division based on factors such as the taxpayer's gross assets, gross receipts, operating entities, industries, and/or foreign assets. A CIC taxpayer may appeal the findings of the examination conducted by LMSB.

[9] Cases considered by Appeals involving issues related to abatement of interest, Collection Appeals Program, Director of Practice, Freedom of Information Act, Trust Fund Recovery Penalty, Collection Due Process Timeliness Determination, and other miscellaneous penalties are grouped into the "Other" category and are defined below:

Abatement of interest—A taxpayer may file a claim for abatement of interest on tax deficiencies or payments attributable to errors or delays in the performance of ministerial acts by the IRS. A ministerial act is a procedural or mechanical act that does not involve the exercise of judgment or discretion and that occurs during the processing of a taxpayer's case after all prerequisites to the act have taken place.

Collection Appeals Program—Provides the taxpayer, or a third party whose property is subject to a collection action, an administrative appeal for certain collection actions, including levy or seizure action, that was or will be taken, Notice of Federal Tax Lien that was or will be filed, and rejected or terminated installment agreements.

Director of Practice—A tax professional may appeal the findings of the IRS Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) (formerly the IRS Office of the Director of Practice). OPR has oversight responsibility for tax professionals and investigates allegations of misconduct and negligence against attorneys, certified public accountants, enrolled agents, and other practitioners representing taxpayers before the IRS. In addition, IRS e-file applicants and providers may request an administrative review when the applicant is denied participation in IRS e-file or the provider is sanctioned while participating in IRS e-file.

Freedom of Information Act—A taxpayer may appeal the denial by the IRS Disclosure Office of a request for records made under the Freedom of Information Act.

Trust Fund Recovery Penalty—An employer is required to pay trust fund taxes to the U.S. Treasury through Federal Tax Deposits. Trust fund taxes are the taxes withheld from employees' paychecks for income tax and the employees' share of Social Security and Medicare taxes. A Trust Fund Recovery Penalty may be proposed against the responsible person(s) by the IRS Collection Division for the total amount of trust fund taxes evaded, not collected, or not accounted for and not paid to the U.S. Treasury. The taxpayer may appeal Collection's determination.

Collection Due Process Timeliness Determination—When a taxpayer's request for a Collection Due Process hearing or an equivalent hearing is not received timely or the request cannot be processed, Appeals may review the request and make a separate timeliness determination.

Other penalties—This subcategory includes a variety of different types of penalties that may be appealed. Tax return preparers may appeal penalties imposed under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Sections 6694 and 6695 for understatement of a taxpayer's tax liability or with respect to preparation of a tax return. Tax shelter promoters may appeal penalties imposed under IRC Sections 6700 or 6701 for aiding and abetting an understatement of tax liability. A penalty imposed under IRC Section 6715 for Dyed Diesel Fuel may be appealed. A taxpayer may appeal the denial of an application for an extension of time to pay estate tax under the provisions of IRC Section 6161.

Tax-Exempt Activities

The IRS devotes significant resources to meeting the special needs of tax-exempt organizations, qualified pension benefit plans, and Government entities in complying with tax laws. While these entities are not subject to Federal income tax, they nonetheless represent a significant aspect of tax administration.

Table 22 summarizes IRS activities, such as issuing technical guidance, to assist tax-exempt entities and facilitate their compliance with Federal tax laws. Table 23 provides information about applications for determination of tax-exempt status for employee pension plans. Table 24 provides information about applications for tax-exempt status that were closed during Fiscal Year (FY) 2010. Table 25 shows the total number of approved tax-exempt organizations for Fiscal Years 2007 through 2010. More than 65,000 tax-exempt organizations and other entities, including almost 60,000 religious, charitable, and similar organizations, applied for tax-exempt status during FY 2010. Of those, the IRS approved tax-exempt status for almost 54,000 organizations. In FY 2010, the IRS recognized more than 1.9 million tax-exempt organizations and nonexempt charitable trusts.

[3] Technical assistance is provided in response to requests for assistance with a private letter ruling from Chief Counsel and requests for assistance with clarification and guidance on technical or procedural issues that are not related to a specific organization.

[4] Technical advice involves a formal request for guidance regarding the application or interpretation of the Internal Revenue Service laws, related statutes, and regulations that are related to a specific set of facts for a particular organization.

d—Not shown to avoid disclosure of information about specific taxpayers. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

- [1] A defined contribution plan is a pension or retirement plan that provides an individual account for each participant. Benefits are based solely on amounts contributed to the participant's account and any earnings on these contributions. When the employee takes a distribution of his/her account balance, the amount paid will be limited by the value of the participant's account.
- [2] A defined benefit plan is a pension plan that does not maintain individual account balances that reflect the accrued benefits of each plan participant. Instead, the accrued benefit is determined by a determinable formula stated in the plan.
- [3] The total of defined contribution plans is the sum of columns 4–10, which include associated section 401(k) arrangements and participants. See footnote 10.
- [4] A profit sharing plan is a retirement plan that gives employees a share in the profits of the company. Contributions to employee retirement accounts are determined as a percentage of annual company profits.
- [5] A stock bonus retirement plan is funded by an employer's contributions of corporate stock to the retirement plan.
- [6] A money purchase pension plan is a retirement plan under which employer contributions are based on a fixed percentage of compensation. Contributions are required every year, regardless of earnings and profits.
- [7] A targeted benefit retirement plan is similar to a defined benefit plan since employer contributions, which are mandatory, are based on projected retirement benefits. However, unlike a defined benefit plan, the benefits provided to participants at retirement are based on the performance of the investments, and are therefore not guaranteed.
- [8] A leveraged employee stock ownership plan (ESOP) is a retirement plan in which the company leverages its credit to borrow money to fund the retirement plan. The company uses the borrowed funds to purchase shares from the company's treasury for the retirement plan and makes annual contributions to repay the original loan.
- [9] A non-leveraged employee stock ownership plan (ESOP) is a retirement plan in which a company contributes either cash to purchase outstanding shares of company stock or contributes a certain amount of shares from the company's treasury to employee accounts.
- [10] Section 401(k) arrangements and participants are reported and counted under the types of plans to which they are attached (e.g., profit-sharing or stock bonus plans) and, thus, are also included in columns 4–10.
- [11] Reflects pension plans that satisfy the qualification requirements of Federal pension law.
- [12] Totals may be overstated to the extent that employees participate in more than one plan.

Chief Counsel

The IRS Chief Counsel is appointed by the President of the United States, with the advice and consent of the U.S. Senate, and serves as the chief legal advisor to the IRS Commissioner on all matters pertaining to the interpretation, administration, and enforcement of the Internal Revenue Code, as well as all other legal matters. Under the IRS Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998, the Chief Counsel reports to both the IRS Commissioner and the Treasury General Counsel.

Attorneys in the Chief Counsel's Office serve as lawyers for the IRS. They provide guidance to the IRS and to taxpayers on the correct legal interpretation of Federal tax laws, represent the IRS in litigation, and provide all other legal support the IRS needs to carry out its mission.

Tables 26 and 27 provide information about Chief Counsel's workload and case activity in several major categories including criminal tax, international issues, and general legal services in Fiscal Year 2010. Chief Counsel received 90,359 cases and closed 93,360 cases during the fiscal year. Of cases received, as well as cases closed, the majority were related to tax law enforcement and litigation, including Tax Court litigation; collection, bankruptcy, and summons advice and litigation; Appellate Court litigation; criminal tax; and enforcement advice and assistance.

Almost 30,000 Tax Court cases involved a taxpayer contesting an IRS determination that he or she owed additional tax. During the fiscal year, the total amount of tax and penalty in dispute was $7 billion.

[1] Tax Court cases involve a taxpayer contesting the Internal Revenue Service's determination that the taxpayer owes additional tax. The Tax Court provides a forum for a taxpayer to request a determination of the deficiency prior to paying the tax allegedly owed.

Other cases that may be considered by the Tax Court include:

Collection Due Process (CDP)—cases where a taxpayer requested a hearing with an independent CDP officer in response to a notice of Federal tax lien or notice of intent to levy.

Innocent Spouse Program—cases in which a taxpayer who filed a joint return with a spouse or ex-spouse may apply for relief of tax, interest, and penalties if he/she meets specific requirements.

Abatement of interest—cases of disputed interest on tax deficiencies or payments in which IRS error or delays may have contributed to the assessed interest.

Tax-exempt status—cases where an organization disputes IRS's revocation or denial of tax-exempt status.

[2] The amount of tax and penalties in dispute excludes interest.

[3] Reflects the amount a taxpayer owes as determined by the Tax Court, excluding offsetting overpayments and interest.

[4] Refund cases involve taxpayers seeking refunds of claimed overpayments after taxes have been fully paid. Refund amounts in dispute can vary widely from year to year and increase when frivolous, high dollar lawsuits are filed.

[5] Tax protected is the amount claimed by the taxpayer in a suit for a refund of previously paid taxes that is not awarded to the taxpayer in the court's judgment.

[6] Nondocketed cases are cases in which a court petition was not filed and Chief Counsel reviewed and advised on a statutory notice of deficiency.

IRS Budget and Workforce

Tables 28 through 31 provide information about the size and composition of the IRS workforce and the resources that the IRS spends to collect taxes and assist taxpayers.

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2010, the IRS collected more than $2.3 trillion, incurring 53 cents, on average, to collect $100.

IRS's actual expenditures for FY 2010 totaled nearly $12.4 billion. IRS's three core operating appropriations are taxpayer services, enforcement, and operations support. Taxpayer services funds processing tax returns and related documents, and assistance for taxpayers in filing returns and paying taxes due. In FY 2010, the IRS spent $2.4 billion on taxpayer services. Enforcement funds examination of tax returns, collection of balances, the administrative and judicial settlement of taxpayer appeals of examination findings, and provides resources for strengthened enforcement to reduce invalid claims and erroneous filings associated with the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) program. The IRS spent almost $5.5 billion on enforcement in FY 2010. Operations support funds administrative services, policy management, and IRS-wide support. The appropriation also funds staffing, equipment, and related costs to manage, maintain, and operate critical information systems that support tax administration. In FY 2010, the IRS spent more than $4.1 billion on operations support.

During the fiscal year, the IRS continued to focus on attracting, retaining, and developing a quality workforce to support workforce management activities that contribute to making the IRS one of the best places to work in the Federal government. In FY 2010, the IRS employed a total workforce of 107,621, including seasonal and part-time employees.

[r]—Revised based on revised estimates from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

[p]—Preliminary.

- [1] Gross collections exclude alcohol and tobacco excise taxes starting with 1988. Also excluded are taxes on firearms starting with the second quarter of Fiscal Year 1991. Responsibility for these excise taxes was transferred from the IRS to the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau and to the U.S. Customs and Border Protection, respectively. See Table 6 for gross collections data by type of tax.
- [2] Operating costs exclude costs reimbursed by other Federal agencies and private entities for services performed for these external parties. Beginning with Fiscal Year 2005, includes costs for Business Systems Modernization and the Health Insurance Tax Credit Administration. See Table 28 for these costs.
- [3] U.S. population and tax per capita are based on resident population plus armed forces overseas as of October 1 of each year. This information is provided by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.
- [4] Represents the average number of full-time equivalent (FTE) positions actually used to conduct IRS operations. Excludes positions funded by reimbursements from other Federal agencies and private entities. In contrast, IRS labor force counts in Table 31 (Internal Revenue Service Labor Force, Compared to National Totals for Civilian and Federal Labor Forces, by Gender, Race/Ethnicity, and Disability) represent the number of persons, including part-time and seasonal workers, employed at any time during the fiscal year.

NOTE: All amounts are in current dollars.

[2] Reflects Executive Branch employees as of September 2010, as reported by U.S. Office of Personnel Management. These data include the Internal Revenue Service labor force.

[3] Data from U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census (2000 Census Statistics).

[4] Hispanic or Latino persons of any race are included in the Hispanic category.

[5] Data for IRS and other Federal workers of two or more races may be incomplete, as data for this category have been routinely collected only for employees hired after January 1, 2006. The data also reflect information for employees in this category who were hired prior to January 1, 2006, who subsequently updated their official information.

[6] The term "targeted disability" was originally enacted by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) in 1979 and refers to certain disabilities that have been identified for emphasis in Federal affirmative employment planning. For targeted disabilities, the EEOC established a 2.0 percent Federal goal for all agencies by 2010.

NOTE: Percentages may not add to totals because of rounding.

First-Time Homebuyer Credit

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009 was signed into law on February 17, 2009. This legislation was intended to provide a stimulus to the U.S. economy in the wake of the economic downturn. The Internal Revenue Service administered the tax-related provisions of ARRA.

ARRA expanded the tax credit for first-time homebuyers who purchased a home between January 1, 2009, and December 31, 2009. Under the law, qualified homebuyers were allowed to claim the tax credit either on their 2008 returns (due on April 15, 2009) or on their 2009 returns (due on April 15, 2010). Qualified first-time homebuyers—those who did not own, separately or with a spouse, a home within 3 years of the purchase date—could claim 10 percent of the home purchase price up to $8,000, or $4,000 for married individuals filing separately. The amount of the tax credit began to phase out for a taxpayer whose adjusted gross income was more than $75,000, or $150,000 for joint filers. The Worker, Homeownership, and Business Assistance Act of 2009, enacted on November 6, 2009, extended and expanded the First-Time Homebuyer Credit (FTHBC) into 2010.

Under these two pieces of legislation, taxpayers could claim the FTHBC on their 2008, 2009, or 2010 tax returns. Table A reports the FTHBC by State and includes original and amended returns with a FTHBC processed between September 27, 2009, and October 2, 2010. In Fiscal Year 2010, more than 2.1 million returns included a FTHBC claim that was granted by the IRS. Combined, these returns included $15.6 billion in First-Time Homebuyer Credits.

[1] Reflects the First-Time Homebuyer Credit (FTHBC) claimed and granted by IRS after adjustments. Under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 and the Worker, Homeowner, and Business Assistance (WHBA) Act of 2009, taxpayers could claim the FTHBC either on their 2008, 2009, or 2010 tax returns. Eligible taxpayers who entered into a binding purchase contract by April 30, 2010, to close on a home purchase by June 30, 2010, could claim the FTHBC until September 30, 2010. These data include original and amended returns with a FTHBC claim processed between September 27, 2009, and October 2, 2010. Taxpayers who did not claim the FTHBC on their original returns could file an amended return to claim the credit. Counts exclude FTHBC claims withdrawn in an amended return or rejected by the IRS.
