FOOTNOTES

Returns with and without net income

(1) Includes Includable income of Controlled Foreign Corporations and amounts identified on the return as "Gross-up" of foreign dividends (the equivalent of taxes deemed paid on dividends from related corporations in developed countries). This latter amount may be understated since there is no specific line for it on the return.

(2) Line 63, plus line 64, less line 36.

(3) Includes tax from recomputing prior year investment credit.

(4) Line 65, less line 77, plus line 79.

(5) Less than $500 per return.

Returns with net income

(1) Includes Includable income of Controlled Foreign Corporations and amounts identified on the return as "Gross-up" of foreign dividends (the equivalent of taxes deemed paid on dividends from related corporations in developed countries). This latter amount may be understated since there is no specific line for it on the return.

(3) Includes tax from recomputing prior year investment credit.

(5) Less than $500 per return.

NOTES:

Income year 1965 covers corporation accounting periods ended July 1965 through June 1966.

* Estimate is subject to high sampling variability and should therefore be used with caution. See table A for sampling variability for selected frequency and amount estimates.

INDUSTRY STATISTICS AND THEIR LIMITATIONS

The industry groupings used for Statistics of Income, Corporation Income Tax Returns, conform with the 1963 Standard Enterprise Classification issued by the Office of Statistical Standards, Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President. The structure of the classification follows closely along the lines of the Standard Industrial Classification, which is designed as a means of classifying separate establishments rather than the companies of which establishments are part. Some departures from the enterprise classification system are made for Statistics of Income for the finance industries in order to reflect particular provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

Even though the classification system is designed to apply to the company rather than the establishment, its application to corporation income tax return statistics has limitations. For corporations, industry statistics are generally governed by the returns of the larger companies. Since a return is classified by industry based on the activity accounting for the largest percentage of total receipts, this means that large corporations with diversified activities are included in only one industry even though many of their business operations are unrelated to the industry in which they are classified. It should therefore be noted in using the Source Book, especially for recent years, that statistics for an industry may be either understated by amounts reported by corporations whose principal activity lies elsewhere, or overstated by amounts reported by corporations classified in the industry but having substantial operations in other industries.

To an extent the effect of diversification on the statistics is mitigated by the reporting unit used by most corporations. Separate returns are generally filed for each member of a group of related companies even though for general financial purposes reports are filed for each group as a whole. When separate returns are filed, it becomes possible to classify each company within a group by industry. Also, when a company's operations are diversified among related minor industries, the effects of diversification may be mitigated somewhat when data for the related minor industries are accumulated into the major industries featured in the published Statistics of Income reports.
