The Honorable Ileana Ros-Lehtinen
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Attention:

Dear Ms. Ros-Lehtinen:

I am responding to your email dated January 20, 2015, on behalf of your constituent, . asked about the rules for qualified charitable distributions described in section 408(d)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The Pension Protection Act of 2006 added section 408(d)(8), which applies to distributions made in tax years 2006 and 2007. The American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 (ATRA) extended the application of section 408(d)(8) for 2012 and 2013. The Tax Increase Prevention Act of 2014, which the president signed into law on December 19, 2014, extended the application of section 408(d)(8) for 2014.

Generally, if a trustee makes a distribution from an individual retirement arrangement (IRA) directly to a qualified charitable organization after the IRA owner reaches age 70½, the IRA owner can exclude the distribution from income. A distribution eligible for this exclusion is called a qualified charitable distribution.

When ATRA became law in 2013, it contained several transition rules that allowed taxpayers to make qualified charitable distributions for 2012, including those made in 2013 or not directly from the IRA. However, the Tax Increase Prevention Act of 2014 did not include any transition rules.

I am sorry my response is not favorable, but I hope this information is helpful. If you have questions, please call me or at ( ) .

Sincerely,

Pamela R. Kinard
