We received your Form 8038 late

You need to request an extension of time to file before we can process your form

We received your form on November 25, 2018, after the filing deadline. The tax law requires that a bond issuer file certain informational returns (Forms 8038, 8038-B, 8038-G,8038-TC and single issue 8038-CG) by the 15th day of the 2nd calendar month after the end of the quarter in which the bond was issued. If you are filing a consolidated Form 8038-GC for multiple issues, the filing due date is February 15 of the calendar year following the year in which the bond was issued.

What you need to do immediately

Send us a letter to request an extension and include the following information:

- Why you filed the return late
- · Actions taken after you discovered you missed the filing deadline
- Statement that says whether the IRS is examining the bond issue in question
- Copy of the late return
- · Copy of this notice

Mail your response to the address shown in the top left corner, within 30 days from the date of this notice, or fax it to 877-xxx-xxxx.

If you fax the information, address your cover sheet to Attention: EO Accounts, Mail stop 6710, and include the following information:

- Your name
- Your taxpayer identification number
- · Number of pages faxed
- Date

Due to the high volume of faxes we receive, we can't acknowledge receipt of your fax. If you send a fax, don't mail a copy of this information. Doing so may delay resolving your account.

If we don't hear from you

If you don't send us the requested information, interest on the bonds may not be excludable from gross income.
